

PCDF Clinical & Research Centers Network

The PCD Foundation has developed the PCD Foundation Clinical & Research Centers Network (PCDF – CRCN) to serve as focal points for PCD diagnosis, research, treatment, and data collection. This network ensures that PCD patients receive quality diagnostics and cutting-edge treatment and care, all based on evidence and/or expert consensus.

The PCD Foundation oversees a rigorous application and approval process for membership in the centers network to ensure the patient experience at each center is positive. There are more than 40 PCD expert clinical and research centers across North America, with numerous sites awaiting accreditation.

Find A Center

Access to an accredited PCD center will ensure individuals with PCD are receiving care from experts who are committed to providing cutting edge diagnosis and treatment for PCD, and are dedicated to improving quality through research initiatives.

Interested in finding a PCDF center near you?

Contact Lynn Ehrne at lehrne@pcdfoundation.org or visit 'Find A Center' at www.pcdfoundation.org.

